How The Baseball Bounced At Oliver

See Page 4 For Story

This is the way OMBL Champions Kelowna Orioles and Oliver OBC's opened their end of the 1959 baseball season Sunday at Oliver. For complete roundup story of the game's highlights see Sports Page 4. (In Box Score analysis when reading error for Frank Fritz of Kelowna, readers are advised herewith that Kelowna played flawless ball, but due to a base umpire's decision in the ninth inning which made an Oliver runner, presumably out, safe on first, official scores refused to record a hit. Thus, for the record, because of the umpire's decision, Fritz was recorded as charged with an error.)

B.C. ROUNDUP

Liberal Leader Laing To Resign

VANCOUVER (CP) — Arthur Laing said Sunday he will resign from the leadership of the British Columbia Liberal party before the provincial party convention here May 15-16. He declined to say, however, whether his resignation will be permanent or whether he will try to regain the post in the ensuing election of officers. "It may be I will have something definite to say within the week," he said in an interview. The party's provincial executive committee meets here Friday to draw up a program for the convention. It is expected Mr. Laing's statement will depend on that meeting. Mr. Laing, now 55 and the survivor of several party battles since becoming leader in 1953, has been without a seat in the legislature since the provincial general election Sept. 23, 1956.

COUNCIL STRIPPED OF ITS POWER

Freedomite Women Take Sect Control

KRESTOVA, B.C. (CP) — Apparently linked by repeated failings of the meeting during which the 52-man fraternal council to free Freedomite children from the control of the British Columbia government, the Sons of Freedom Doukhobors are going to take over. Sparking the latest revolt was the New Denver, B.C. provincial meeting, 80 miles northwest of here, where the government houses Freedomite children whose parents refuse to send them to school. The dormitory, called a concentration camp by Freedomites of the council, said the 52-man body now housed about 75 children. It was established in 1954 as a drastic step to ensure that Doukhobor children received proper education. Freedomites refused to send their children to schools in their districts claiming Canadian education teaches militarism. The children remain at the dormitory until they are 15. They attended nearby classes with other children the women took absolute control.

OKANAGAN LAKE BRIDGE STIRS BOOM IN PEACHLAND VILLAGE

By KATHLEEN AITKINS
Courier Special Correspondent
PEACHLAND—The boom brought on by increased traffic on Highway 97 since Okanagan Lake bridge was opened continues in this village. Another major housing development has been approved and work on clearing land already has been started. The latest subdivision, located on the north (Kelowna) side of Trepanier creek, consists of about 50 acres and will provide about 75 home sites. It is called the Highlands, giving future home owners a panoramic view of the lake, with the highway passing nearby. The development is being undertaken by a Calgary firm—Stan Stov and Associates. The firm has purchased a portion of the Jim Clements ranch, has an option on Stan Mitchell's property and has agreed to buy a parcel from the municipality.

Police Lay Driving Charges In Glenmore Accident Case

A charge of driving without due care and attention has been laid against Frank Faulconer following an auto accident Saturday night on the Old Glenmore Road. Faulconer and another occupant of the auto, Fred Travis, were treated at Kelowna General Hospital. Travis is still in hospital and was reported to have spent "a good night". Another man, Ben Abel, was also in the auto when it "missed a bridge" on the Old Glenmore Road, about three miles from McKinley's Landing. Police say the car struck a tree after leaving the road.

Four Alleged 'Rustlers' On Trial Here

Defence Lawyer In Clash With Crown Over Conflicting Facts

By AL CAMPBELL
Daily Courier Staff Writer

All the elements of a Tale of the Old West were present in county court this morning when trial of four alleged cattle rustlers opened.

And all the elements of a first-class Perry Mason extravaganza.

Trial of the four had not proceeded one hour before one of the defense counsels suggested to a witness that perhaps another key witness had "told you what to say."

John Wittur, 19-year-old youth from the Black Mountain district, who testified he had found a dead cow on the roadside, did not deny this. He said this "might have been."

He stated in the courtroom he had seen the cow lying by the road on the night of November 23, 1958. He said he went to the bunkhouse of the Joe Casorso ranch, told "some ranch hands" there of the carcass and returned with two men to the scene.

SAY ONE CAUGHT
The ranch employees are alleged to have caught one of three men found near the carcass, after a chase.

This morning, Wittur stated he had not seen the actual chase as he had returned to the ranch truck to move it from the path of another vehicle.

During cross-examination, C. G. Beeston asked Wittur if he had not testified in an earlier preliminary hearing that he had seen the actual chase, and the men had run about 200 feet before going through a fence.

At this point Mr. Beeston asked the youth if he had perhaps discussed this point with someone before the preliminary hearing. Wittur replied this "could have been."

Crown prosecutor E. C. Weddell objected to this line of questioning, saying Mr. Beeston was "deliberately misleading" the witness.

DEFENCE OBJECTS
The defence counsel in turn objected to the suggestion he was misleading and that he was "not being fair."

When Judge Gordon Lindsay asked Wittur to elaborate on whether he had been told what to say, he replied only that "he could have heard it."

Those charged are Harold Neiser, Edward Garbet, Alexander Kern and Walter Schultz. Norman Mullins is defending Neiser and Kern while H. S. Harrison-Smith and C. G. Beeston are acting for Garbet and Schultz respectively.

Several witnesses are slated to testify including a pathologist and a police ballistics expert from the Regina crime laboratory.

Harbor authorities said they expect a formal statement from Transport Minister Hees shortly.

Dr. Laycock "Improving"

Dr. S. R. Laycock, whose home is in Saskatoon, but who has been spending the winter in Kelowna and doing a considerable amount of lecturing in this province, is "improving" in Kelowna General Hospital it was learned today.

The noted psychologist, marriage counsellor, educationist and author was stricken with a heart attack late last week. Hospital authorities said he had a "good night" last night.

He was due to appear in Trail tonight as guest speaker at an "adventure in marriage" clinic sponsored by the Trail branch of the Canadian Mental Health Association.

Dr. Laycock is not expected to be able to take on any speaking engagements for several days.

Political Situation Suggests Middle Road Party Needed

The current question in B.C. politics is whether or not Premier Bennett will call a general election for the fall. Doubtless this is a question on which he ponders as he enjoys a well-earned holiday in Hawaii. An election is not necessary this year, but there are reasons and signs that suggest that it would be good political strategy for the government to call one at that time.

It has been quite obvious during the past few years that Mr. Bennett's basic political strategy is to wipe out the Liberal and Conservative parties in this province and thus to leave the field clear for his own right-wing Socialists and the left-wing CCF, on the not unreasonable assumption that the majority of the people of this province are opposed to socialism and would therefore be driven to support of his party.

He has been reasonably successful in this plan to date. He has been immeasurably assisted by the two parties he seeks to destroy. Neither the Liberal or Conservative party have performed very effectively since the last election and there is good reason to question the ability of either to revive itself before the next test of strength. One thing is sure, neither can do so, if it continues to pursue the methods they have used to date. To date both old line parties have contented themselves with sniping at the errors of the government and the economic fallacies of the CCF. If either party is to win back the confidence of the public, it must have some constructive policies of its own, policies which suggest solutions for the province's major problems. For example, on the matter of Bill 43, the government's new labor legislation, neither Mr. Finlayson or Mr. Laing have advanced any significant comments. Obviously they hope that through their failure to take any definite stand on this important question they will not antagonize any section of the voting public. But a political muggump, especially one as near oblivion as are both of these parties, cannot hope to win public confidence by sitting on both sides of any fence.

All this leaves the middle-of-the-road voter in a puzzling situation. And there are many of those voters; people who are fundamentally opposed to the tenets of the CCF party and are something-less-than-enthusiastic about the theories of the Social Credit party which is currently in power; people, too, who, observing the current ineptness of the old line parties, feel that a vote for either of them would be a vote thrown away. Premier Bennett, of course, believes—hopes—that the great majority of these people will be driven to voting for his candidates. That may well be, but there is another possibility—a very large percentage of them will say "a plague on all your houses" and remain away from the polls.

While there has been no suggestion of a new middle-of-the-road party in this province, the situation would appear to be ripe for the formation of one. If a competent leader could be found, there is every reason to believe that he could command a surprising amount of strength, drawn from the disillusioned and disheartened Liberals and Conservatives, the independent voters who can support neither the CCF nor the Social Credit parties, and, too, those erstwhile CCF voters who now find themselves at odds with that party because of its political affiliation with labor. These diverse elements, given good leadership and good candidates, could provide surprising strength.

The Conservative party last fall re-elected Mr. Finlayson as its leader but the intervening months have given no indication that there will be any great resurgence of the party under his leadership. The Liberal party plans a convention in the near future when undoubtedly the question of Mr. Laing's leadership will be one of the more important subjects debated. Will the Liberals in convention produce any new policies, provide better leaders and lay foundations which will be acceptable to formidable candidates? These are now the current important political questions. Should they fail to do so Mr. Bennett can hold a fall election with complete confidence that his government will be returned to office.

REPORT FROM THE U.K.

Labor Wing's Pension Plan Embarrassing To Socialists

By M. McINTYRE HOOD
Special London (Eng.)
Correspondent
For The Daily Courier

LONDON—The annual conference of the Co-operative Party, one of the powerful wings of the Labor movement, has put the Socialist political party in a very embarrassing position.

In spite of warnings from their leaders, and against the advice of their national committee, the delegates at the conference passed a resolution calling for an immediate increase in old age pensions to £3.10.0 a week for each person. They also adopted a proposal that old age pensions should be raised automatically to keep pace with any rise in the

J. Bailey, the party secretary, tried to bring a note of realism to the discussion, but without avail. "The conference," he said, "must take a responsible view of this matter. A Tory government will not accept it. You are asking for a 75 per cent increase in pensions."

"We know that no Labor government, under whatever pressure, faced with the many demands already made on our national resources, could possibly for years to come increase the old age pensions by 75 per cent. To adopt the proposal might be to discredit on the Conservative party, but most assuredly it would hurt the Socialist party. You should not deceive old age pensioners by making promises you cannot possibly fulfil."

SAID IRRESPONSIBLE

H. Jenkins, delegate from Manchester and Salford, one of the sponsors of the resolution, came right back at the secretary, saying his statement was one of the most irresponsible ever heard at the conference. He charged that it was the Conservative party which was misleading the pensioners, as had been the case two years ago.

Urging the conference to reject the resolution, Mr. Bailey said the party had no right to ask a Conservative government to do what it knew perfectly well a Socialist government could not do.

In spite of the urging of the secretary, backed up by other members of the national executive committee, the resolution calling for the increase of old age pensions to £3.10.0 per week for each person was carried by a substantial majority.

J. Peddie, chairman of the conference, in a closing message, said the conference was having difficulties with its democratic approach to problems, and urged the delegates to refrain from being a source of continued annoyance to the Socialist party.

It may take all kinds of people to make a world, as the saying goes, but many of them mess it up considerably in the making.

"More women than men are victims of mental deterioration," says a psychiatrist. This probably due to women's wearing their minds out by changing them so often.

One reason many people aren't broadminded is that they haven't enough brains to spread.

Reds Bluffing, Says Agency; Still Not Prepared For War

WASHINGTON (AP)—Will Russia explode the Berlin crisis into a third world war?

The hush-hush Central Intelligence Agency is reasonably sure it has the answer to that question — and the answer, apparently, is a cautious no.

Robert Amory, CIA deputy director for intelligence, says the Russians "haven't got what it takes rationally to challenge us this spring."

Although the Soviet Union is not ready to risk a major nuclear war over Berlin, he says, Soviet Premier Khrushchev "expects to force us to chicken out."

"If the West is resolute, then I believe that the Soviet Union — by hook or crook — will be the one to back down."

The CIA deputy says Soviet leaders were told 18 months ago that a 15-year period of peace is imperative.

"Their economy is by no means mobilized for war or preparing for war," Amory says.

Amory hedges his bet on the Kremlin's reluctance to pull the trigger, to this extent: The Soviets, he says, though not ready, will fight if circumstances force it.

Amory made his unusual on-the-record appraisal of Soviet intentions in a recent, little-publicized lecture at the University of South Carolina. It was his first public address in four years.

Whether his statement reflects the CIA's official view, as laid before President Eisenhower and the policy-making National Security Council, is a matter of conjecture. The CIA rarely makes public utterances on international affairs.

But at any hour of the day or night, the CIA can and often does come up with crash estimates of the situation wherever a crisis develops. These include such things as reports on the movement of important military units and appraisals of what is likely to happen. This work of a staff, chair-borne staff of global information experts at times overshadows the exploits of clandestine espionage agents.

Some authorities say that more genuinely valuable information is gathered by the stay-at-home fact sifters working behind desks at CIA headquarters in Washington than by cloak-and-dagger agents roaming the world.

Congressional critics frequently have chided the CIA for relying too much on statistical data and facts culled from Soviet military, industrial and farm journals — instead of undertaking bolder ventures such as planting spies inside the Kremlin's walls. The agency never answers such criticism. "The CIA never explains, never alibis" is its motto.

Fulton Favors Delaying RCMP Contract Meet

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Justice Minister Fulton says he will seek a postponement of this month's scheduled conference to review the federal-provincial RCMP contracts. He will propose that it be held later this year.

His announcement came as attorneys-general of some of the eight provinces that lease RCMP services called for speedy clarification of the controversial emergency-reinforcement clause in the contracts.

A dispute over the interpretation of such a clause — that in Newfoundland's RCMP agreement — led to the recent resignation of RCMP Commissioner L. H. Nicholson.

Col. Nicholson said it was a breach of contract when Ottawa refused the province's request for RCMP reinforcements during the loggers' strike. It also is on this ground that Newfoundland has filed suit against the federal government in Exchequer Court.

TWO MEETINGS

Premier Manning of Alberta, had proposed recently that before the general contract-review conference is held, the attorneys-general meet in an attempt to clarify the reinforcement clause.

Attorneys-general of Manitoba and Donohoe of Nova Scotia both commented that they were preparing to discuss the contracts generally — and the one clause in particular — and Mr. Donohoe said he would be willing to attend the special meeting suggested by Premier Manning.

In Vancouver, Mr. Fulton noted that the general conference was called before the Newfoundland situation arose and added that "as soon as this question arose, we intended that there should be specific discussions" on the reinforcement clauses.

However, he now would write to the attorneys-general and seek their approval to a delay in the conference because of the re-shuffle in the RCMP following Col. Nicholson's resignation.

If the provincial officials agreed, the conference could be held "later this year," Mr. Fulton did not set a date.

The Minister of Health and Welfare at Ottawa has a budget too. He uses it to pay for various important services. Among these are Family Allowances and Old Age Benefits.

Money for the Minister of Health and Welfare's budget comes through the Minister of Finance. This is true of other departments also.

It's no secret how the Minister of Finance obtains this money. He gets it largely in taxes from millions of Canadians like you. If he spends more than he gets from you, he must turn around and borrow from you the amount he has overspent... or else create new money.

DRESSED IN SCHOOL JACKETS

Two Kelowna Girls Missing Since Saturday Afternoon

Two Kelowna Junior High School girls are the object of a wide search since they disappeared from Penticton late Saturday afternoon.

Frieda Cundy, 15, of Glenmore, and Maxine Purdy, 14, 2165 Aberdeen St., in Woodlawn, left Kelowna Friday afternoon for a weekend in Penticton.

Royal Canadian Mounted Police were alerted after the girls failed to show Saturday night at the home where they were billeted.

Police were of the opinion the girls had just gone on an unscheduled trip somewhere but haven't completely ruled out the possibility of foul play.

WORRIED PARENTS

Distraught parents are unable to account for the disappearance. Mrs. Joe Cundy, Frieda's mother, said she was "worried sick," and was waiting anxiously by the telephone for good news. Mr. Cundy, a milk salesman for a local dairy, went to work this morning reluctantly.

Mrs. Jean Purdy, mother of Maxine, is reported to be in Penticton waiting for word about the girls.

Both girls were reported to have left their overnight bags

Local Youth Hurt At Coast

RICHMOND (CP)—A Kelowna youth was in satisfactory condition in Vancouver hospital with serious head lacerations suffered in an automobile accident here early Sunday.

Noel De Rousier, 21, was found staggering beside his car on Airport Road by Lloyd Sheward, owner of the Richmond ambulance.

Mr. Sheward, who was returning from an ambulance call to Vancouver airport, said the car apparently crashed into an eight-foot ditch and De Rousier's head had crashed into the windshield.

Glenmore Didn't Offer New Area For Disposal Site

In a news story carried last week, it was reported that the Glenmore municipal council had offered the city of Kelowna an alternate to the proposed site for garbage disposal grounds.

MHO Dr. D. A. Clarke was attributed as the source of the information. This was in error, the result of misinterpretation of Dr. Clarke's letter to the city council.

Dr. Clarke's letter advised council that his department had under consideration (from a health viewpoint) a proposed subdivision to the immediate north of the property which the city intends to use for its garbage disposal area.

The pertinent paragraph of Dr. Clarke's letter read thusly: "The district of Glenmore is anxious that no nuisance be created by this dump and recently we have received for consideration a large subdivision to the north of this proposed site."

Teachers Ask For Jobs Here

Gordon Johnson, superintendent of schools for this district, told school trustees at last week's meeting of the board he has received a number of "good looking" applications from teachers wishing to work in this district.

By good looking, Mr. Johnson said he meant both photographs and qualifications. "But until the position becomes clear on teachers leaving the district, all we can do is acknowledge them," he added.

These applications from outside the district and eight local applications for senior positions are being studied by the school board.

Two positions to be filled are vice-principal for Rutland Junior-Senior High School and principal for the Raymer Ave. School.

Junior College, Detention Home Decisions Deferred

PENTICTON (CP)—Resolutions calling for establishment of a juvenile detention home and a junior college in the Okanagan valley were referred back to the six member units for study Sunday by the spring congress of the Okanagan district's Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The bid for a junior college in the interior, contending that the University of British Columbia is becoming larger every year and in a short time will not be able to cope with the population increase in the lower mainland, and also suggesting that more students would be able to afford higher education if there were a junior college in the interior, was referred to the district's fall convention by each of the district's six units and the vote filed with the district.

Decision on the juvenile detention home proposal is to be made by May 11.

The resolution said the present system of holding Okanagan juvenile offenders in police jails "in close proximity to adult offenders and in conditions considered damaging psychologically and detrimental to correctiveness," is contrary to the Juvenile Delinquent Act which says a juvenile offender should be treated not as a criminal, but as a "misguided and misdirected child needing aid, encouragement, help and assistance."

In the annual elections, Harold Thorlakson of Vernon was elected president for the 1959-60 term.

Trade Licences Are Approved

Applications from the following for city trade licences were approved by city council last week:

Kelowna Industrial Supply, tool and equipment rental service at 274 Lawrence Ave.

Breakwater Plan Held Up Until Fall

PEACHLAND — A survey will begin sometime this month prior to construction of a new breakwater here.

Municipal council was told the federal department of public works does not plan on building the breakwater before fall, but council had initiated a plan to have work start in the spring.

Date for construction depends on how far similar work is advanced at Summerland.

GAS SERVICE

In a letter from the Inland Natural Gas Company regarding the date of probable service, action was promised within two years or failing this, the district would be reimbursed for the costs incurred in putting the gas franchise by-law to the electors.

Council reserved judgment until a further meeting.

Property chairman A. R. Miller recommended that 15 sets of street signs be ordered in dark green on white, and when obtained, that they be installed in accordance with the sketch submitted.

TEACHER RESIGNS

The Kelowna school board has accepted with regret the resignation of Miss June Minette who has been a teacher for three years at Rutland Junior-Senior High School.

PROUD FATHER

Water Chlorination For Winfield School

Dr. Brian Holmes, member of the health committee for School District 23 (Kelowna), reports chlorination of the water in the Winfield area is being seriously considered. Dr. Holmes said in the meantime Winfield School would need a new chlorinator.

Trustee T. R. Carter suggested using an earth filtering plant, similar to the one recently installed at low cost at the Ellison school. Health Unit studies indicate it is functioning well, Mr. Carter said.

Musical Festival Entries Heading For New Record

By Courier Correspondent

VERNON — Entries in the Okanagan Musical Festival, to be held in Vernon the week of April 27 to May 2, are far more numerous than ever before, according to festival committee members.

It was also disclosed that a further adjudicator has been secured, Dr. Welton Marquis, dean of the department of music at University of B.C., and a newcomer to B.C. Dr. Marquis' last post was in Oslo, Norway.

Vernon businessmen and organizations have put up more than $500.00 in new scholarships, to be presented to winners in their respective classes. The money is to be used to further their training.

For the first time in the festival's long history, there will be accordion competitions this year. Coming from Britain to adjudicate are Noel Cox and Leslie Woodgate, who will judge vocal and instrumental entries. Mrs. Joliffe, a member of the Royal Academy of Dancing, will judge dancing entries; and Dr. Pearl Reid Campbell, speech arts.

Favored Calcutta Quartet Grab Final Round By Hair

Harold Johnston and his tee-mates made it unanimous yesterday at the Kelowna Golf and Country Club, winning the Calcutta Handicap with a sizzling 60.

It was the second straight week end of triumph for the foursome—Johnston, Dave Gatherum, Roy Chapman and Hromi Ito—who walked off with the low qualifying round the week before on the tight play of high handicap man, Ito and were favored to take the final stanza.

Chased all the way by Dr. John Campbell's quartet, with 62, and Don Day's with 63, the Johnston squad never faltered. Al Anderson came in on the fourth-place money with 66.

FUN AND GAMES

On Saturday night, however, it was all fun and games, as the Calcutta Stag centred the golf and country club stage, with club president Ernie Butler hosting the proceedings.

Presentations from the past two years of play were made at the banquet, with former club champion Don Day handling the MC chores for the evening.

Day, club champ last year, presented the trophy to George Barnes as current holder of the honor, and received the Ches Owen trophy (19 and under handicap, Kelowna Day) and the Frank Burkholder trophy (low gross, Kelowna Day), himself, the club's operation last year, and the plans for the forthcoming year, which included a revolutionary new date of July 9 for the Ogopogo Open, formerly played following the annual Regatta.

Over 70 golfers, from club veterans to the new members enlisted in the club's new "youth movement" attended the evening, with a smorgasbord supper and golfing films highlighting the entertainment side.

And on Sunday, conditions were just about perfect for the wind-up of play.

OLIVER—An outflow from Nelson stole the baseball show Sunday.

And a former Oriole set the fans warbling with a circuit clout.

In a nutshell, that's how two major Okanagan Mainline Baseball League contenders opened the 1959 diamond season, when Oliver OBC's, with a rugged bum steer from a near-sighted base umpire in the ninth stanza, clipped the champion Kelowna Orioles 3-2 after 10 frames of first-class entertainment.

Oriole first baseman Don Holmes—an import to the Orchard City fraternity from Nelson Outlaws, who previously played in Flin Flon, Manitoba, and tends a goal sometimes in his spare winter moments—went to the showers last night with the name "Willie May" ringing in his ears.

"There's a ball player!"—Oliver official scorer Ted Bowering commented at game's end.

Holmes was robbed of two hits in the second and eighth by a force out and an error but he connected solidly in four times at bat and beat a short bunt to first to claim one hit. The speedster baffled the southerners three times to claim a trio of stolen bags; he nailed a hot one by flying through the air, spearing the ball flat on the ground and rolled to nail the sack and out the runner. He backbatted two double plays and he took an umpire's raw shellacking in the ninth and a spike in the heel, with guts and philosophy.

On the other side, former Kelowna centre fielder and league-leading home-run hitter Bill Martin, now in OBC's uniform, got one through short to claim a single and an RBI. Both Kelowna tallies came in the seventh. Al Schaefer, out of baseball for two years with a bad leg once again donned uniform Sunday. He, too, singled a hot ball through fifth hit and one tie.

Also shining on the local line-up were Frank Fritz, at short, and Scott and Schaefer on the mound. Fritz, with his old-time neatness and speed, performed in A-1 fashion gaining two singletons and two walks in five at bats and batting in one of Oriole's two counters. He too performed some magic feats in base running and won credit for a steal.

Jack Denbow, a southpaw, who plays centre field rammed a hot one through short to claim a single and an RBI. Both Kelowna tallies came in the seventh. Al Schaefer, out of baseball for two years with a bad leg once again donned uniform Sunday. He, too, singled a hot ball through fifth hit and one tie.

SEVEN FOR OBC's The other side of the story was a seven-hit chapter for OBC's. The boys from below started their season right with Martino's homer and Eisenhower's single in the second; a two-sacker by young Cox in the eighth; singles when Pinske's hot ball to short by Ceccone and Vanderbergh in was speared by Fritz and rifled the ninth; and a ground rule to Holmes, who nailed it like a ballerina, standing on the bag on the 10th backed up by Pinske's tip-toes. Pinske, running fast single, Pinske was credited with an RBI as well as Ceccone and Martino.

On the mound, Esche, who went eight-plus frames for Oliver, showed poor control though he accounted for nine retirements. He walked seven. Scott proved a better pitcher in control and top of the 14th inning for a 5-4 change-up. He fanned eight and walked three. Driessen, for Oliver, struck out four, walked one; Les Schaefer, for Kelowna, fanned two, gave one free pass.

The Schaefer was declared loser after bottom of the ninth inning but one and two-third innings. The bad call came in the ninth runs to force five extra innings.

Hotspurs Click, Blank Juventus

The Hotspurs were ticking like a well-oiled watch yesterday, but they were having trouble hitting the twine.

Lucky for the Revelstoke Juventus they weren't, either, since the "missing" Spurs ran up a 4-0 score, as it was, to make their spring record so far, one win, one tie, and one loss.

The Juventus, who managed to hold the Kamloops Uniteds to a tie last week, found the 1959 version of the "Spurs" possessed too much speed and smooth passing altogether, even though the locals missed more often than they shot.

TOOK COMMAND The Spurs took command from the opening whistle, but it was 14 minutes old before Wendell Turk, playing a superb game, took Heinz Hiller's pass from the right side and the score stayed that way for the remainder of the half.

The game got rougher in the second half, and the salty Juventus were called in the penalty area at 17 minutes, giving Brian Roche a chance to burn in a penalty drive that almost took the goalie's fingertips off.

At the 35-minute mark Gino Tahiniyi rapped in a loose ball for the insurance marked, and two minutes later he laid down a pass to Hiller to add icing to the cake.

Hiller and Pete Osborne were outstanding forward line, with Roche at centre half and Pete Bulatovich turning in strong performances.

Coach Bob McKinstry was pleased with his charges, but said they will be having some "hit the net" practices on Tuesday and Thursday to sharpen up their shooting eyes.

White Sox Look Crisp In Early Season Tilts

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Three days don't make a week, let alone a season, but it looks today as if Chicago White Sox have the two ingredients they lacked last season. That would be home run punch and strong relief pitching.

It was this combination that helped them win their third straight Sunday, a 5-3 decision over Detroit. The home run punch was provided by rookie Norm Cash, the relief pitching by rookie Rudolph Arias and sophomore Bob Shaw. Each came in to stifle a Tiger threat with the bases loaded.

The defending champion Yankees finally were able to open their season at Yankee Stadium, but it began to snow almost immediately after they had nipped the Boston Red Sox 3-2.

Rain forced the postponement of the scheduled doubleheader between Baltimore and the Senators at Washington and the single contest at Kansas City between Cleveland and the Athletics.

Detroit loaded the bases with only one out in the seventh against starter Dick Donovan. Arias, a Cuban left-hander, came in to get cleanup batter Gall Harris on a called third strike and pinch-hitter Gus Zernial on a fly to right field.

Detroit loaded the bases again in the eighth with only one out. This time Shaw took over and got Eddie Yost to ground into a double play.

Bob Turley didn't need any help from the bullpen as he spun a two-hitter to get the Yankees away winging. Pete Runnels, double in the seventh and Vic Wertz' ninth-inning single were the only hits Boston was able to get as Tom Brewer lost on an eight-hitter. Norm Siebern led the Yankee attack with three hits. His home run in the eighth snapped a 2-2 tie.

Rutland SOK'M Hustlers Win Two Straight

The Rutland SOKM League team, the Red Caps, played two exhibition games over the weekend.

On Saturday afternoon, at the Orioles stadium they took on a Kelowna junior team that is planning to enter the league, and lost by a score of 6-1. Seven walks given up by the Rutland chucks, plus a few timely hits, gave Kelowna most of their runs.

Rutland loaded the bases in the seventh and final inning, but a double play killed the rally. Kelowna players pulled off some good running catches that also helped hold down the score.

Batteries for the game were: Rutland: Wayne Horning, Barry Forsythe and Adrien Rieger; for Kelowna: Bert Ryder, Cosé and Ed Schm.

Score by innings: Rutland 001 000 0-0 Kelowna 102 021 X-6

RUTLAND 8 WINFIELD 1

Playing at home on Sunday against Winfield the Red Caps won out by a score of 8-1, and three Rutland chucks shared in a no-hitter, with Horning going three innings, Bruce Clement three, and Jim Gray the final frame. The visitors one run came as a result of a walk, and two subsequent slow throws that let a runner score from third, 13 Winfield batters tried out via strike-out.

The visitors tried three chucks, Elgaard going three innings, Pico two and Hall one inning. Horning had a good day at the plate with three hits and a walk to bat 1000, McKinley, playing his first game, and holding down first base, also showed up well with a couple of hard clouts.

Score by innings: Winfield 000 000 1-1 Rutland 103 013 X-8

SNATCH AND JERK

TOKYO (AP) — Peiping Radio reported Sunday Russian light-heavyweight weightlifter Rudolf Pfeuffer broke the world record for the snatch and equalled the world record for the press, snatch and jerk at the Sino-Soviet championships at Beijing.

The radio said Pfeuffer snatched 139 kilograms (305.5 pounds), beating his own mark by half a kilogram (1.1 pounds). The previous record was set at teams from Salmon Arm, Sicu, the Soviet National, Champion, ships in Gorky last year, the Rutland, Kelowna and possibly broadcast said.

Next Sunday the senior team will have the park, and the Adidas are hoping for an exhibition game, but failing that the Adidas and Red Caps will practice together.

The annual meeting of the Kelowna SOKM League is being held in Kelowna on Friday, April 17, and will be bigger this year, with the Soviet National, Champion, ships in Gorky last year, the Rutland, Kelowna and possibly broadcast said.

QUESTION: Our home is being new plaster, especially where an oil base paint is to be used. New we move in the plaster walls will be unpainted. How long should we wait before applying paint to the walls?
ANSWER: Generally, it is advisable to wait at least two months before applying paint to new plaster, especially where an oil base paint is to be used. New plaster should be first given a coat of primer sealer. If you intend using a rubber base or resin emulsion water-mixed paint, half the drying time is sufficient. If a water base paint is used, the primer sealer can be omitted.

DAILY COURIER HOME OF THE WEEK

Up and down — round and about — this house contains everything for family living and entertaining. Designed for a lot that slopes gently to the side, so that the carport can be placed under the very attractive sundeck, entry is through the new "cathedral" type entry, and up into the living room. The "island" fireplace divides the combination dining area-kitchen — which could double as a 'family room' — from the living room with its attractive planter wall at the entry. Two bedrooms and a bathroom complete the upper floor living arrangements, and downstairs to the lower area, are found more opportunities for family living and entertainment. A bedroom and a den, with a full sized bathroom, are included, and a large recreation room with a snack bar and all the conveniences runs across the back of the house. An unusual feature about the downstairs arrangements is the fireplace in the large bedroom. In addition a utility room contains all the laundry facilities. The carport is shown under the large sun deck which is accessible from the "family" room.

FIRST AID TO THE AILING HOUSE

By ROGER C. WHITMAN

"PUTTY" FOR ALUMINUM
QUESTION: Is regular putty used for aluminum windows, the same as with wooden ones?
ANSWER: Regular putty isn't used for aluminum or metal. The best material is known as glazing compound and is widely available at dealers selling metal windows. Glazing compound will not chip or fall out as easily as putty; and remains elastic for a long time.

ROOTS IN SEWER PIPE

QUESTION: How can the growth of tree roots in a sewer pipe be retarded?

ANSWER: Dissolve one-half of one pound of pulverized copper sulphate in a half pail of warm water. Pour this solution down the drain of a plumbing fixture the last thing at night. This should be used about once every four weeks during the growing season; every six to eight weeks the rest of the year. Some garden supply dealers have concrete preparations available for this purpose; follow manufacturer's instructions on the container.

DRAIN CLOGGED

QUESTION: Tried using chemicals to clear the pipe in a basin, but the drain remains clogged. What else can you suggest?

ANSWER: Try a tool known as "plumber's friend". This is a rubber cup on a short wooden pole, available at variety and hardware stores. Fill the basin with enough water to cover the rubber cup, then place the cup over the outlet and work it up and down several times. The pressure created will often force obstructing matter through the pipe. If not successful, afraid the plug at the bottom of the drain pipe will have to be removed (first place a receptacle underneath to catch any drips). Remove any clogging material with a wire.

SMOOTHING CELLAR FLOOR

QUESTION: We had a concrete floor put down in our cellar, but it is quite rough-surfaced. How can we make it smooth?

ANSWER: The simplest procedure is to locate a terrazzo man who can make the concrete floor smooth by going over it with a terrazzo grinding machine. Another method would be to level off the floor with a floor underlayment, then cover it with an asphalt or vinyl-asbestos floor tile or with one of the new moisture-proof-backed linoleums. Consult your floor coverings dealer.

DUST FROM REGISTERS

QUESTION: Is there anything we can put across hot air registers to keep dust from the rooms without cutting off the heat?

ANSWER: Special filters made of fiber glass are now widely available for this purpose at most hardware dealers. This can be cut to the required size.

Keep Canned Goods Handy In Plywood Storage Unit

When an overly-hearty husband keeps a sparkling conversation going around with the goodies. "Of course you'll stay for dinner!" and you'd planned a quick store for a brick of ice cream, pickup meal for the family, do Set up a lazy susan with a bowl of ice cream in the centre, surround it with small dishes of any treats the cupboard affords — strawberry jam, canned fruit, marmalade, coconut, chopped nuts, chocolate sauce. Everyone takes the whole mob out to the will enjoy your "do it yourself" local greasy spoon. But what's the point of making a fuss—it's a challenge. Meet it head on, head gal in the picture? Take a good look at her stock of canned goods and you'll understand. Not magically if you add a glass of only is she equipped for most any spiced chilled tomato juice, a crisp salad, and some fresh-baked bread, within easy reach, without so much as a stoop, and every label is easy to read.

The fir plywood shelves are adjustable to accommodate any size living room along with a plate of can or package. Indeed, the of cocktail crackers topped with mild cream cheese. Let Father be variable—that is, it can be

FROM CART TO CLOTHESLINE

Plywood Laundry Cart Cuts Washing Drudgery

Grandmother used to pop her washables into the laundry chute, remember? But after the war the basement moved upstairs, the upstairs bedrooms moved down, and one of the few conveniences of the bad old days was lost.

Trust granddaughter to find a way around the difficulty though. Here it is—a laundry cart on casters. It has a removable divider for white and colored fabrics, could be adapted to take dusters and cleaning compounds too.

Take it into the bedroom to change the linen, while you're there dust up, drop the dusters and sheets into the cart and you are off to the next room.

It will cozy right up to the washing machine when you need it, tuck in under the sink unit when you don't. And it has lots of unseen vent holes for air circulation to keep the clothes from getting that musty odour. If you are basking in the convenience of a ranch style home, you can fill the cart with freshly-washed clothes on sunny days, and wheel them right out to the clothes line. Even a partially dry wash is hard on the back when carried the old-fashioned way. And you've got better things to do with your energy.

Plans are available through your nearest lumber dealer for the construction of this fir plywood laundry unit shown above.

A small version of the plywood Canned Goods Cabinet could be put to good use as an emergency cupboard, filled slowly and thoughtfully with little "extras". Civil Defence will love you for it—and guess who'll be urging dinner invitations on the next group to drop in!

STAINS ON CHIMNEY

QUESTION: Our gray stone chimney is quite smoke stained on the outside. Is there any way to remove this staining? We have an oil burner.

ANSWER: The stains are probably caused by smoke from the oil burner. Frequently having the air and oil mixture in the burner adjusted will eliminate excessive smoking. To remove the stains: First wet the outside of the chimney with clear water. Then scrub the surface with a mechanic's hand soap that comes in paste form and contains fine sand. Thorough rinsing should follow.

OKANAGAN MISSION

Mrs. Sidney Miller and son Peter of Seattle returned home on Wednesday after spending two weeks at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Haines.

Mr. Raymond A. Davis leaves on Saturday for Calgary where he has obtained a position. Mr. Davis has been a resident in the district for some eight years, having come here from Kamloops. He is well known here for his histrionic talents, having been a member for some years of the Kelowna Little Theatre, and latterly of the Okanagan Mission Players.

The monthly meeting of St. Andrew's Afternoon Guild was held at the home of Mrs. H. C. S. Collett this week. Final plans were made for the rummage sale to be held at the Community Hall on April 15. All rummage will be welcome, and several members of the Guild will be on hand at the Community Hall from 10 a.m. on Wednesday, April 15, to receive all donations of rummage. Tea will be served in the afternoon.

Music Courses Offered At Centre School Of Arts

The Paddock Summer School of Fine Arts at Okanagan Centre announces an enlarged program for the 1959 summer season. The first classes will be conducted on June 22 in painting and will continue throughout the summer.

Among the new departments this year will be Music under the guidance of Dr. P. Ash and his wife Anne Ash, both are on the staff of the Okanagan State University.

Dr. Ash will be in charge of the piano courses which are designed for the advanced pianist and organist. The music teacher as well as the music lover may enjoy a music listening and appreciation course.

Dr. Ash comes to the Paddock well versed in his field, having recently returned from a Fulbright grant that sent him to Vienna, to do post-graduate study in piano. He has had experience conducting choirs, given various recitals and this March was piano soloist with the Okanagan City Symphony Orchestra.

Sacred music is also among his accomplishments, not only as a composer of organ selections but as organist in several American churches and conductor of their choirs.

Mrs. Ash, a soprano, who will be conducting courses in advanced voice training and voice pedagogy, has her Master's degree in voice from Indiana University. She studied voice in Vienna and at the moment is voice instructor at Oklahoma State.

The Paddock will offer two music workshops — one July 20-31 and the other Aug. 3-14. The content of the course will be different so that those who wish may attend both sections and cover different work. Members of the masters course of both piano and voice are requested to be familiar with a selected group of work which will be studied during the classes.

In addition to music courses the Paddock is offering a selection of courses in ceramics, weaving and stage craft and theatre design. This latter department will be under Gwen Lamont A.O.

C.A. of Kelowna. Her courses will cover a variety of topics in costume and stage designs to the making of marionettes and puppets.

This will be the first branch in the school dramatic field and should be of value to teachers confronted with school dramatics as well as Little Theatre and musical groups. The two workshops in this subject will be held July 6-17 and Aug. 17-28.

Taking maximum advantage of the beautiful surroundings of the Paddock, Okanagan Centre, pine and sage, the outdoor sketching courses have attracted many artists, in all stages of proficiency. Again this year it is anticipated that these courses will be well attended.

The Paddock is also offering scholarships again this year to two young Okanagan Artists, 18 years and under, applications accompanied by two sample works must reach the Paddock by May 15.

Particulars about the summer school courses and scholarship applications may be obtained by contacting the Paddock, Okanagan Centre, B.C., or by phoning ROger 6-2644.

Business And Professional Club Ask Prime Minister For Justice

Seeking amendments to the Federal Income Tax Act and the Estate Tax Act, the ratification by Canada of the International Labor Organization Convention No. 100 on Equal Pay for men and women, the appointment of qualified women to the National Parole Board and more women to the Senate of Canada, the abolition of Trading Stamps and the continuation of the celebration of July 1st as Dominion Day, a delegation of the Canadian Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs met with the Prime Minister, the Hon. John Diefenbaker recently.

The delegation was led by the national president, Miss Isabel Menzies of Montreal, and included Mrs. Dorothy Cummings of Montreal, Miss Elsie Gregory MacGill, P.Eng., Miss Margaret Perney, Q.C. both of Toronto, and Miss Dorothy Milligan, of Ottawa.

Claiming that the present provisions of the Income Tax Act work unjustifiable hardship on married couples who conduct an unincorporated family business, they urged that remuneration paid the employee spouse be considered as a business expense and as such be deductible from the taxable income of the employer spouse.

They also asked that the amount which a dependent spouse is permitted to earn without reducing the deduction of $2,000 of the taxpayer spouse be increased from $250 as at present to $350, the amount now allowed for other dependents of the taxpayer without reduction of exemption; also that working women employing housekeeper service in their family dwelling be allowed to claim an exemption of $1,000, as is now permitted to unmarried clergymen.

The delegation asked that the Federal Estate Tax Act and Income Tax Act be amended to relieve from double taxation the benefits payable to a widow from a pension, annuity or other fund. At present such death benefits are taxed first under the Estate Tax Act as property passing on the death of the husband, and then again under the Income Tax Act as income in the hands of the widow. The dual impact of such taxation may well wipe out much of the benefit.

Ratification by Canada of the ILO Convention providing equal pay for men and women workers would encourage similar action by other nations and increase Canadian stature at home and abroad, the delegation noted. Canadians support the principle of equal pay, as is evidenced by the Equal Pay Act, and Equal Pay Acts in Ontario, Saskatchewan, British Columbia, Nova Scotia, Manitoba, Alberta and Prince Edward Island.

The appointment of qualified women to the recently constituted National Parole Board would sharpen the humanitarian approach to the problems of parole and rehabilitation, while giving due consideration to the safety of the community, respect for the law and the problems of clemency, corporal punishment, habitual criminals and such matters. The delegation urged, as well as providing good assurance that the problems of women offenders would receive understanding consideration.

The inclusion of qualified women on all policy-making boards and commissions is in the general interest, the delegation added, particularly where the work of such bodies touches closely people's lives, condition and welfare.

The delegation asked the Prime Minister to abolish trading stamps as an expensive and vicious sales promotion scheme. They also asked that Dominion Day, continue to be celebrated on July first.

Western Concert Outstanding Hit At Mission Hall

Playing to a packed house, the Western Concert sponsored and organized by the Women's Auxiliary to the Okanagan Mission Community Hall, was staged last week—and a wonderful show it was. The sets, costumes and performance were excellent.

The first half of the program took place in a barroom complete with poker game, and orchestra. All through this section of the entertainment "Frankie and Johnnie" was acted out in pantomime and song, with Les Wilson as Johnnie, Jean Wright as Frankie, Dorothy Allen as Nellie, and Verna Coe as Elsie. Wilson as two Gay Nineties gals, telling the story in song.

Bob Renaud, the competent bartender, sang two solos "Nellie Paid the Mortgage" and "Sunflower." As well as these two songs, he looked after the needs of the patrons of the bar in a most efficient manner. One of the most efficient managers of the poker players said the stuff he was served tasted like kerosene, and another said it tasted like turpentine—it looked most authentic anyway.

A harmonica Trio of "Casey Jones" was well done by Glenn Coe, Pete Allen, Ross Lemmon and Ian Dunlop. Ian, one of the poker players, couldn't keep his mind on the poker game while the two Gay Nineties gals were on stage telling the story of Frankie and Johnnie.

Members of the orchestra were Archie Reid and Carol Faulconer on violins, and Bruce and Colin Fazan on banjo and guitar. They did a wonderful job—Archie and Carol doing "You Are My Sunshine," and Colin and Bruce doing "Camptown Races," and Bruce a solo on bonjo of "Suzanna," followed by "Waiting for the sunrise."

Glenn Coe sang "Dark Town Poker Club" and, with Ross Lemmon, Pete Allen and Ian Dunlop did an excellent job with "Little Brown Jug" and "The Chisholm Trail."

The Okanagan Mission Squares who started out this season with Les Boyer as caller, have lately been carrying on under the capable teaching of Mr. and Mrs. Elsie Callas. Eight of the members ably executed several square dances.

CAMPFIRE

The second part of the program took place around a camp fire, the whole set "Blue Shadows" in the opening scene followed by the Men's Quartet of Ross Lemmon, Glenn Coe, Pete Allen and Ian Dunlop singing "New Moon over my Shoulder" followed by the orchestra with "Comin' Round the Mountain." Later in the programme "Red Wing" and "Red River Valley" in a lovely toe tapping style. Clarence Harris as the Old Timer, performed a monologue of "Dangerous Dan McGrow."

The solo work in the second part of the program was outstanding—as was the work of the master of ceremonies, Les Wilson. Marla Lemmon, accompanied by Colin Fazan, gave a delightful rendition of "All Day on the Prairie." Bob Renaud sang "Kansas City" and later "Ghost Riders." The audience would definitely like to have heard more of both Merla and Bob.

Outstanding too, were Heister and Elsie—Verna Coe and Elsie Wilson, whose rendition of "I'm Going Back" really brought down the house.

Ross Lemmon did a solo of "Little Joe," and Jean Wright a spiritual, both well done, and the program closed with the entire cast singing "Gold Mine in the Sky" and "Blue Shadows." Thus ended a most enjoyable evening. Over $100 was realized and will go towards new curtains for the stage.

NICE DETAILS
Those responsible for this show are to be congratulated. A lot of nice details were included, such as the "Wanted" notice on the wall with pictures of some of the well-known local residents; the popular young couple doing the ushering in their jailbird

Writer Wishes World's Women Would Wake Up

VICTORIA (CP) — Women should take more interest in world affairs, says Vera Brittain, the distinguished British writer. "Most women these days are as intelligent as the men and should not be content to stay buried at home," she said in an address here. "They seem to be anaesthetized — you might say stupefied — by little domestic details."

"They should run for political office and things like that. Child care and husband all have their place, but housewives should know what's going on around them, locally and on an international basis."

The author is the wife of George E. G. Catlin, professor of political science at McGill University since 1956, and is the mother of a son and a daughter. She said she would have been a politician if she had not chosen writing as a career. "I would run for the Labor party. I have always been interested in the welfare of people once oppressed. But unfortunately the Labor party is not so dynamic as it used to be."

She urged men and women to work for peace by writing to newspapers and taking part in protest marches and vigils when peace seems to be threatened.

New York Surgeon Defends Women's Role In Medicine

MONTREAL (CP)—The role of women in modern medicine, ranging from traditional bedside nursing to performance of latest surgical techniques, is being analyzed as a sidelight of the American College of Surgeons meeting here this week.

Dr. Katherine Russell, 29-year-old surgeon from New York Infirmary, a delegate to the meeting, stoutly defended her profession Wednesday in an interview. "If women are to be let into medicine at all, I see no reason why they should be limited to internal medicine," she said. "And, of course, women have long been accepted as obstetricians and gynecologists, so why limit the surgical field to those operations?"

EQUAL MEN
"Women are neat with their hands. They stand up well to stress. Their endurance is at least that of a man's, except in muscular activity — and there isn't much of that in surgery," she said.

Dr. Russell is a 1951 graduate of Birmingham Medical School. She came to the United States 15 months ago as surgical resident at New York Infirmary, a 230-bed private hospital founded by women. When she finishes there in three months, she is to go to New York's Memorial Centre for Cancer and Allied Diseases for a year to further her knowledge of cancer surgery.

The need for nurses to be aware that admission to hospital for surgery is always a crisis for the person to be operated on and for his family was stressed at a separate meeting of the college attended by nurses.

suits; and Norm Apsey as the sheriff taking tickets at the door. The show kept up a good pace, and most of the numbers were of an excellent nature. The community will be looking forward to another concert next spring.

B.C. ROUNDUP

Robert Sommers and H. Wilson Gray against conviction of conspiracy and bribery will open before the Supreme Court of Canada Tuesday, April 28.

VANCOUVER (CP) — Top officers of the British Columbia Federation of Labor will meet again Wednesday to make further plans for union action on the provincial Trades Union Act, which makes unions legal entities subject to suit.

Secretary Pat O'Neal said Sunday the meeting was called after a conference of 80 staff representatives from affiliated unions in the Vancouver area.

VANCOUVER (CP) — Thieves with an eye for spring fashions stole coats and dresses valued at nearly $5,000 from Hildegarde's Crown Shop here Sunday. Police said only the latest spring styles were taken.

VANCOUVER (CP) — Fire wardens and police are investigating what appears to be a case of arson here. Irene Stowell told police she hung four coats valued at $190 on her backyard clothesline Saturday. She heard a small explosion and found her coats in a blazing heap on the ground.

QUESNEL (CP) — The Quesnel Rod and Gun Club will present resolutions to the B.C. game clubs convention in Penticton April 30-May 2 asking legislation to make it unlawful to hunt or handle firearms while intoxicated and to make it mandatory for anyone causing bodily injury or property damage through firearms to report it to authorities.

CASTLEGAR (CP) — The Castlegar Chamber of Commerce has passed a resolution asking for construction of a bridge across the Columbia River at Castlegar. The motion says the present ferry is outmoded.

Opening lead—jack of diamonds.
The American team gained six international match points in Deal No. 98 in the match against Italy. The result could be attributed partly to a difference in bidding systems and partly to individual achievement by the players.
Harmon made a light opening bid of one spade. The notrump response, as played by this particular pair, constituted a one-round force. Harmon was relieved of the obligation to bid when Belladonna entered with two clubs.
Stakgold came forth with three hearts over Avarelli's club raise, and Harmon, revising the original value of his hand because of the newly-discovered trump fit, raised to four hearts. The contract was made with ease, and America scored 420 points with the North-South cards.

North	East	South	West
1NT	Pass	Pass	Pass
2	Pass	Pass	Pass
3	Pass	Pass	Pass
4	Pass	Pass	Pass

The bidding was vastly different at the other table when Siniscalco and Forquet held the North-South cards for Italy. There the bidding went:
A low spade was opened and Lazard made five clubs and two aces to set a one notrump for a plus of 90 points with the East-West cards. As a result, the United States team gained 510 points on the deal—6 IMPs.
Lazard and Fry were playing 15 to 17 point notrump bids. After eyeing the fine club suit, Lazard decided to stretch a point and open, fourth hand, with a notrump. This passed off pleasantly, the adverse cards being so divided that neither opponent could enter the fray without risk. It was a lucky shot by Lazard, who frequently during the match successfully applied pressure to the opponents.
Presumably, Siniscalco's hand did not qualify as an opening bid in the Neapolitan system, since he did not make the opening spade bid that Harmon found. In this hand the Italian style of bidding apparently failed, but we do not mean to imply that the system as a whole had serious defects. The overall result proved otherwise.

YOUR HOROSCOPE

By ESTRELLITA

FOR TOMORROW
Take a realistic view in all matters now. Some problems may arise, if concerned with business or finances, try to solve them before 4 p.m., when aspects will be best. Late evening influences, however, will call for emotional control if you would avoid friction in personal relationships with those you love.
FOR THE BIRTHDAY
If tomorrow is your birthday, our horoscope indicates that, while this year may not be particularly stimulating where job and financial advancement are concerned, it would not be unduly visible to let down in your efforts, since good influences in June, July, mid-October and December can help to offset intervening adverse aspects. Use these periods to make plans for the future—especially where long-range security programs are concerned. In this connection, aspects indicating excellent headway will be especially good in December.

Domestic and romantic affairs are under some restrictions—except for the last of this month; also in June and December, which will be generally good months for you. Do avoid extravagance and speculation in August and November, however.
A child born on this day will be intelligent and artistically inclined, but may have to curb a tendency toward impulsiveness.

Scientists Now Predict Talking Dogs In Future

ADELAIDE, Australia (Reuters)—A British geneticist predicted today that scientists one day will teach cats and dogs to speak and monkeys to serve meals.
But taking a gloomy look at mankind's future, he said the day of the moron is fast approaching.
Sir Ronald Fisher, president of Gonville and Caius College at Cambridge University, said in a newspaper interview here: "I am convinced scientists will eventually increase the intelligence of dogs, cats and monkeys."
"Surgery on the brain followed by intensive training should enable these animals to speak simple sentences. These advances are unlikely to occur in our century."

63-Year-Old Widow Slain

TORONTO (CP)—A 63-year-old widow was found bludgeoned to death Friday in her east-end home and police believe her slayer had almost 24 hours to cover his tracks.
The body of Mrs. Catherine Ladlike, was found in a pool of blood. Detectives think she may have been slain by an intruder Thursday night.
Police are trying to locate a man who was selling bedspreads in the neighborhood.

Help Your Youngster Develop Visual Skill

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.
Will your child have to wear glasses? While he might not have to wear them in his youth, statistics indicate that eventually he probably will need the visual aid spectacles provide.
The Better Vision Institute recently reported that 54.6 per cent of all Americans over the age of five wear glasses. Maybe they don't wear them all the time, but they do wear them at least on occasion. What's more, millions of others need glasses but don't have them.

HELP YOUR CHILD
Now, don't resist yourself to what at first might appear to be the inevitable. You can help your child acquire the skill and coordination that are essential to good sight.
Early development of this business of seeing is extremely important. Children, you must understand, have to learn to see, just as they learn to walk and talk.
From the moment a newborn baby opens his eyes he begins developing the art of using them and of integrating vision with his own senses.

VISUAL ADVENTURES
Simple everyday toys and events can help promote good vision. Even a teether plays an important role in an infant's first visual adventures. Later, a rattle aids coordination between his eyes, ears and hands. Attaching a short, easy-to-handle string to it may teach the baby something about judging distance.

As the child begins to crawl, let him play with pots and lids on the kitchen floor. By placing the covers on the various pots, he gets training in matching sizes and shapes.

WORKING PUZZLES
As he grows older, a peg table is even better for this purpose. Moreover, it also teaches depth perception and color discrimination early.

A pre-school child can practise for reading by working jigsaw puzzles. While he won't actually be reading anything, he will be using the same eye movements.
As for outdoor play when a child's older, baseball, football, tennis, badminton and such, teach coordination, depth perception and speed of focusing and centering.

I suggest that you check with an eyeight specialist to determine the status of your youngster's visual development. He can recommend the toys and activities that will do the child the most good.

QUESTION AND ANSWER
A Reader: Is there something that will remove hair from the face so that it will not grow back again?
Answer: Most dermatologists prefer electrolysis for the permanent removal of facial hair.

Russia Develops Two-Headed Dogs

LONDON (AP)—Radio Moscow said Friday night a puppy's head has been successfully added to an Alsatian dog and both the dog and the extra head are doing well.
The broadcast reported the operation was carried out 15 days ago by Vladimir Domikhov, head of a laboratory that specializes in transplants of animal organs.

Millions Of Hopeful Gardeners Start Annual Trek For Supplies

By OVID A. MARTIN

WASHINGTON (AP)—Millions of hopeful home gardeners are beginning to troop into shops to buy fertilizer, seed, new tools, bug and plant disease sprays and dusts, hose and many other items.

Some of these hobbyists already have reported to work Monday morning with aching backs and muscles, evidence of too much early enthusiasm.

The U. S. Agriculture department looks upon the home garden not as a commercial enterprise but as an art. It urges the amateur gardener to look upon it as such, in its latest bulletin on growing vegetables in town and city.

"So much has been written in the past few years about 'scientific farming' and 'scientific gardening' that there is danger of the uninformed person being led to believe that farming and gardening are sciences. . . . They are essentially arts, not sciences."

PRACTICE AND EXPERIENCE

The bulletin goes on to say that one may read many books, biggest mistake. Dr. Boswell says it is overworking, trying to grow too much on the limited space.

Unquestionably a lot of home gardens are failures from the financial standpoint. Often the cost of the plowing and the materials used in producing them, when translated in terms of the vegetables produced, is more than the price at the grocery store.

But, says Dr. Boswell, the agriculture department's garden expert, one doesn't engage in a hobby for a profit.

Yet, a well-handled home garden should consistently yield produce having a money value considerably in excess of the costs. In any event, some value should be attached to the health values of the freshly picked vegetables and the outdoor exercise.

What is the home gardener's most popular vegetable? It is the tomato.

What is the home gardener's

China's Transport System Will Work Harder In 1959

By RONALD FARQUHAR

PEIPING (Reuters)—Communist China's transport system, strained by the country's concentrated drive to boost industrial and agricultural output last year, is shouldering even heavier burdens in 1959.

Officials have estimated that freight traffic is likely to double in volume as steel plants, mines and farms strive to improve on last year's achievements when doubled steel, coal, grain and cotton production was claimed.

Dislocation of the transport system in the closing stages of 1958's "great leap forward" is regarded by many observers here as one of the main causes of recent shortages of food and consumer goods and of the difficulties that China has encountered in meeting its foreign trade commitments.

The final spurt to meet the steel target of 11,000,000 tons at the same time as bumper harvests were being reaped in the fields put overwhelming demands on rail, road and river traffic, observers believe.

B.C. Unions Ponder Plan To Transfer Monies To U.S.

VANCOUVER (CP)—British Columbia unions are considering transferring their funds to the United States to evade damage suits under recent B.C. labor legislation, a trade union official said.

This is one of three possible tactics to be discussed today at a meeting called by the B.C. Federation of Labor.

"The purpose of the meeting," is to discuss what steps can be taken to protect union funds. The opportunities Bill 43 gives the employers could smash us financially."

Bill 43 was passed during the legislature session which ended last month and it makes trade unions and employer organizations subject to legal suit.

Today's meeting will have lawyers R. J. McMaster and Alex Macdonald on hand to advise the union people.

Jim Bury, federation executive assistant secretary, said the three main possibilities to be discussed are:

Transfer of union funds to the U.S. whenever major prosecutions appear likely; setting up of building societies whose funds would not be directly connected with the unions; and transfer of funds to trust companies.

"We are not yet certain about the legal aspects of what we are considering," Mr. Bury said. "The lawyers, however, will go into it in detail."

Mr. Black said that under Bill 43 the government "is trying to make out that there is no difference between unions and employers' associations."

"But the employers' associations have no assets. Our finances are our life blood."

Eleanor Not So Tireless After All

LONDON (AP)—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt is not tireless after all. At the age of 71, she sometimes "falls asleep in company."

Authority for this is Nina Roosevelt, 16-year-old daughter of Mrs. Roosevelt's son John.

There had been a general impression that Mrs. Roosevelt was chaperoning Nina on their recent trip to the Middle East. The girl dispelled this in an interview at a book store where the president's widow was autographing copies of her book On My Own.

"Grandma's absolutely marvellous," said Nina.

"I know you think she never tires. Well, one of the reasons is that she's got the knack of falling off to sleep wherever she is, even on her feet."

"It can be awkward if she's in company. She did it in Iran and Egypt when people were talking shibboleth that did not really interest her."

"I keep a very close watch. If I can catch her just as her head is nodding, one tap on the ankle is enough. But once her head reaches her chest, it takes a good old-fashioned shake."

Liberal Leader Plans To Retire

KAMLOOPS (CP)—Senator

Sydney Smith has announced that he will retire next month as president of the B.C. Liberal Association.

Senator Smith told the Kamloops Liberal Association Thursday night he will not be a candidate for any office during the party's provincial convention in Vancouver May 15-16. He had been president of the association for six years.

"New blood is necessary and I am confident that the convention will elect a president capable of carrying on the many duties connected with the office," he said.

Don't spade, plow or cultivate soil that is too wet.

Don't apply too much lime. Don't plant seeds, roots or tubers too deeply.

Don't sow seeds too thickly and don't fail to thin out plants to the proper distance.

Don't let the weeds get too big before you try to destroy them.

Don't apply water in numerous light sprinklings, but water thoroughly about once a week if there isn't enough rain.

NEWMARKET, Ont. (CP)—Rocks that could have derailed a CNR Transcontinental passenger train were kicked off the tracks Friday night by a provincial police constable two minutes before the train was due to pass.

Sgt. John Hutchinson, warned about the rocks by the station agent here, raced his cruiser five miles to a point where the tracks parallel the road near this town 30 miles north of Toronto.

He found six rocks—about 3½ inches thick—on the southbound track and seven on the northbound track.

Jet Pilots Face Challenge As Satellite Astronauts

WASHINGTON (AP)—Seven

jet pilots in their 30s, all family men, face a challenging future as Mercury astronauts.

Their mission: To ride satellites in orbits around the earth at altitudes of 100 to 150 miles and speeds of 18,000 miles an hour — and bring themselves safely home again.

Their test rides could open the way for future flights to the moon and distant planets.

ALL ARE COOL

At a National Aeronautics and Space Administration press conference Thursday the astronauts analyzed their assignments with M. Schirra Jr., 36, Oradell, N.J., and Alan B. Shepard, Jr., 35, East Derry, N.H.

The work would be difficult, they said, but not too dangerous. Barring a Russian first, one of them—no one knows which one—will gain fame as the first man to orbit the earth two years from now. The others are to follow him.

Three of them are air force captains—Leroy G. Cooper, Jr., Carbondale, Colo., just turned 32, and the youngest of the lot; Virgil I. Grissom, 33, Mitchell, Ind., and Donald K. Slayton, 33, Sparta, Wis.
